(57) Abstract :

Aspects of the present disclosure relates to a model to the entrepreneurial ownership (100) where in the X axis and Y axis depicts the start-up life cycle (108) and percentage of investments in the start-ups by the venture capitalists (104) respectively. This model posits that, there an established relationship between; start-up financing lifecycle stages (102), start-up lifecycle stages (105, 106 & 107) and type of entrepreneurial ownership (101). At seed stage of start-up life cycle the venture capital fundings are very less or nil without sharing of any ownership (101 A), hence entrepreneurial ownership is maximum (Absolute ownership). Entrepreneur is looking for more funds for production and commercialization of start-up in its later stages (101 B) with sharing of little ownership (Major ownership) against seed capital received. The major shift in transfer of ownership (Equal ownership and Minor ownership) from entrepreneur to venture capital investors in the later stages (101 C & 101 D). Chance of regaining the ownership may attained by the entrepreneur only in the situation, when Entrepreneur tries to attract the public funding with then help of IPO, the last stage of an entrepreneurial ownership.
